LIVING AS STEWARDS

St. John captures the essence of what kind of love is expected from us toward our neighbor and those in need as he opens our Second Reading with "Let us love not in word or speech but in deed and truth." Jesus made that point several times in His own teachings. It follows the old adage that "Actions speak louder than words."

We have pointed out numerous times that being a good steward requires action. It may be easy for us come to an understanding of what it means to love one another; and additionally, we may speak of doing it; but the true measure is what we do, how we live our lives.

The best examples of stewardship of that we may be aware in our parishes and community involve what we see and experience in others. That is the most effective way to be taught and it is the best way to teach others. Do it and live it.

That is John's point is it not? He continues his instructions in the Second Reading by saying, "We should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another as He commanded us." The Norwegian playwright and poet Henrik Ibsen, who had a great appreciation for the written word, once stated, "A thousand words will not leave so deep an impression as one deed."

The point of Jesus' Parable of the Two Sons (Mt 21) in which one son says he will do his father's will but does not while the other says he will not obey, but repents and does what his father asked, is quite clear that deeds mean more than intentions.

Reflexión de la Corresponsabilidad

San Juan capta la esencia de qué tipo de amor se espera de nosotros hacia nuestro prójimo y los necesitados cuando abre nuestra segunda lectura con "No amemos de palabra ni discursos, sino en hechos y en verdad". Jesús hizo ese punto varias veces en sus propias enseñanzas. Sigue el viejo dicho de que "Las acciones hablan más que las palabras".

Hemos señalado en numerosas ocasiones que ser un buen administrador requiere acción. Puede ser fácil para nosotros llegar a un entendimiento de lo que significa amarnos unos a otros; y adicionalmente, podemos hablar de hacerlo; pero la verdadera medida es lo que hacemos, cómo vivimos nuestras vidas.

Los mejores ejemplos de corresponsabilidad de los que podemos estar conscientes en nuestras parroquias y nuestra comunidad involucran lo que vemos y experimentamos en otros. Esa es la forma más efectiva de aprender y es la mejor manera de enseñar a los demás. Hazlo y vívelo.

Ese es el punto de Juan, ¿no es así? Continúa sus instrucciones en la Segunda Lectura diciendo: "Debemos creer en el nombre de su Hijo Jesucristo, y amarnos unos a otros como él nos ordenó". El dramaturgo y poeta Noruego Henrik Ibsen, que tuvo un gran aprecio por lo escrito, una vez dijo, "Mil palabras no dejarán una impresión tan profunda como una sola acción".

El punto de Jesús en la parábola de los dos hijos (Mt 21) en el que un hijo dice que hará la voluntad de su padre pero no lo hace mientras que el otro dice que no obedecerá, sino que se arrepiente y hace lo que su padre le dijo, está bastante claro que las acciones significan más que intenciones.
